20. CITY / COUNTRY INFORMATION

20.4 About Matosinhos

The city offers the supreme delight of leisure that oscillates between land and sea, in a cult of physical and psychological health, as a seasoning, for rest, for observation, for the exhilarating joy of sports, the personality of those who practices in scenarios of rare beauty.

The gastronomy of Matosinhos, increasingly appreciated and praised nationally and internationally, is considered one of the main tourist products in the county, being part of the most varied itineraries and guides for gastronomic promotion from north to south of the country.

It's history, heritage, tradition, projection, without ever forgetting the unique flavor of sardines in bread. It's culture, art, leisure and other enchantments to see and review. But Matosinhos is much more than that, it's street, night, animation, light, color and sound, it's party, it's life and it's, after all, where everything happens.

Matosinhos is inevitably, sea, beach, surfing, diving, movement and sport, offering a vast and unique coastline where the green is lost in the blue.

Is faith, tradition and pilgrimage, not only as a crossing point on the roads to Santiago, but also in festivals and pilgrimages, with special emphasis on Senhor de Matosinhos, the church, the city's ex-libris, deserving a must visit. Matosinhos is unavoidably gastronomy, proudly assuming itself as the region's dining room, where you can't miss sardines, seafood and the stories of the people who were lost at sea.

Matosinhos provides, unavoidably, a unique experience of travel and experiences, from the most remote times to the most innovative projects.

Terminal de Cruzeiros (Cruise Terminal)

Opened in 2015, the Port of Leixões Cruise Terminal, designed by the architect Luís Pedro Silva, quickly became an ex-libris of the city of Matosinhos. The building, whose configuration recalls the moorings of boats to the quays, combines its avant-garde shape with a coating inspired by one of the most traditional Portuguese decorative materials: the tile. One million tiles, produced by the historic porcelain factory of "Vista Alegre", cover the structure of the building and allow a curious play of light throughout the day.

Capable of receiving the most modern and gigantic cruise ships, the Terminal is one of the main entrances for tourists in the region, but it also hosts a large set of research laboratories from the University of Porto related to the sciences of the aquatic environment.

Visits only on Sunday, from 9:30am to 12pm.

Farol da Boa Nova (Boa Nova Light House)

The Leça Lighthouse is one of the thirty lighthouses on the Continent, located in the district of Porto, Municipality of Matosinhos.

Lighthouses are infrastructures used for maritime signaling and navigation aids, whose administration, management, maintenance and conservation are the responsibility of the Lighthouses Directorate. At the end of the 19th century, the need for a lighthouse in Leça or Leixões was already recognized, but it was only in the 20th century, more precisely in 1919, that the plans for the lighthouse were developed. The work was directed by engineer José Joaquim Peres and its tower is 46 meters high and 3.5 meters in diameter, being the second tallest lighthouse in the country and the last to be built in mainland Portugal. Visits are free and are only possible on Wednesday, from 2 to 5pm.
